Teacher's Discussion

Most angels loved and praise God. But some wanted to BE God. God wanted their love, but they wanted God's power. The obedient angels that stayed in Heaven with God became His messengers. God gives each person his/her own angel, a guardian angel.

We cannot see our angel or hear the voice out loud, but our angel is always with us. Our angel helps us to make the right choice, to do the right thing.

When you are having fun playing in your room, would you like to share that fun with someone else?

- Whom would you choose to be with you? (someone who liked the same things you do, or someone who didn't)

What would you do if the person you invited to play with you refused to play?

- If you asked them to leave and they didn't, what would you do.
- Is there someone you would ask to make them leave?

If you disobey your parents, how are you punished? (go to your room)

- God sent the disobedient angels to a special place where they would never see Him – Hell.

The obedient angels that stayed in Heaven with God became His messengers. God also created a special angel for each of us, our very own guardian angel. Our guardian angel helps us do the right thing, make the right choices.

Name all of the places that your guardian angel will be with you to help you know, love and obey God.

- Name some places that you might try to hide from everyone else but still have your guardian angel with you.
- Who will always be with you when you are happy or scared?

God has given St. Michael the responsibility of protecting His people, especially the children. (Read Bible passage.)
